

Ozone Action Day Level Red DFW Area on Friday Sept 25

Ozone is predicted to be at Level Red in the Dallas-Fort Worth area on Friday, September 25. Here are some examples of things you can do to help improve air quality:

- Drive an Electric Vehicle
- Telecommute, carpool, or vanpool
- Bike or walk instead of driving
- Take public transit such as DART, Trinity Metro, or DCTA
- Reduce idling and observe the speed limit

Children, older adults and people with lung disease, such as asthma, emphysema, or chronic bronchitis, should avoid outdoor activity if ozone reaches Level Red. All other people should limit prolonged outdoor exertion if ozone reaches Level Red.

For more information, visit AirNorthTexas.org

